communicating both

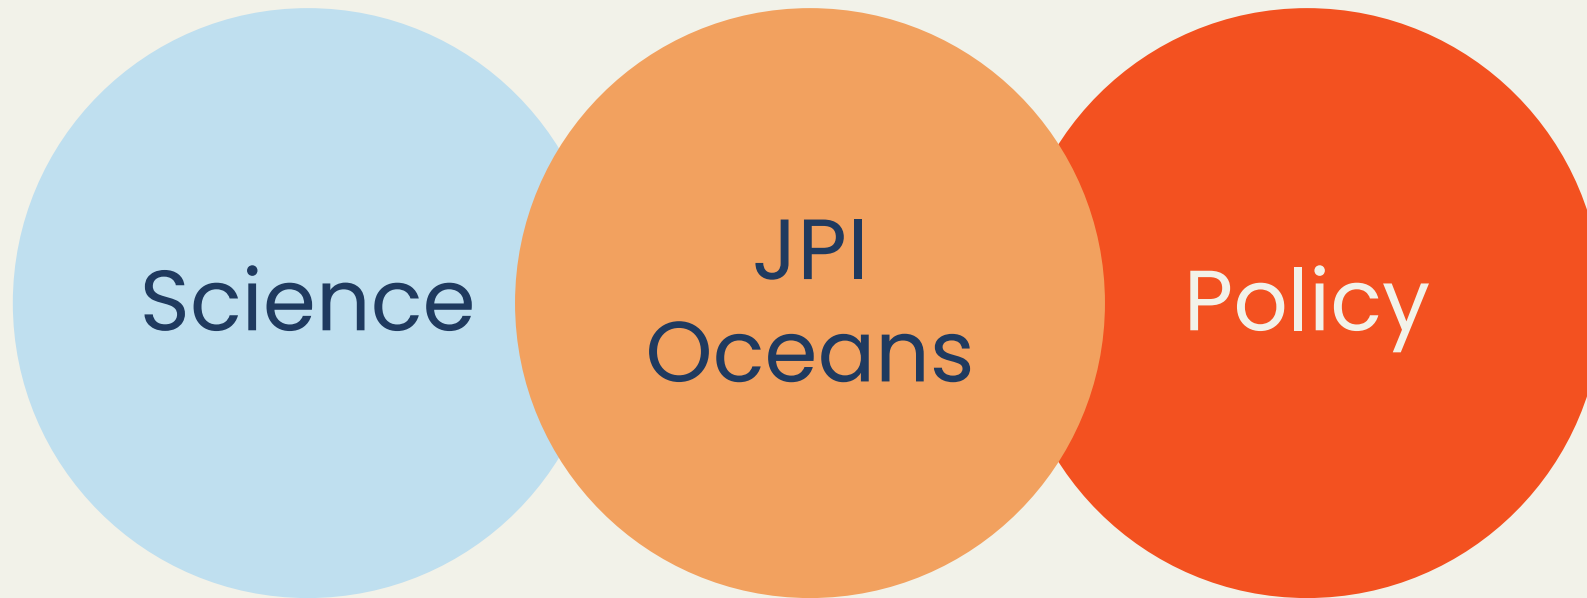

The science-policy interface

As an organisation, JPI Oceans sits at an intersection, and so does its communication work. We are neither a research institution producing science, nor a policy body making decisions.

The science-policy interface

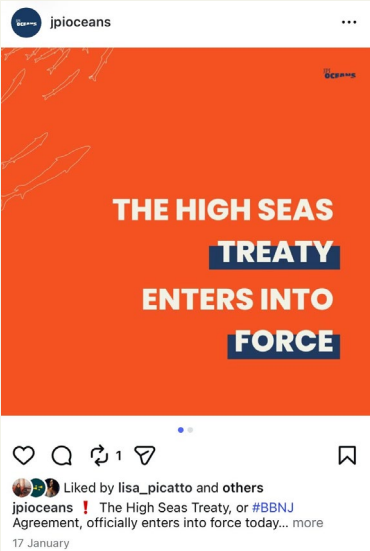

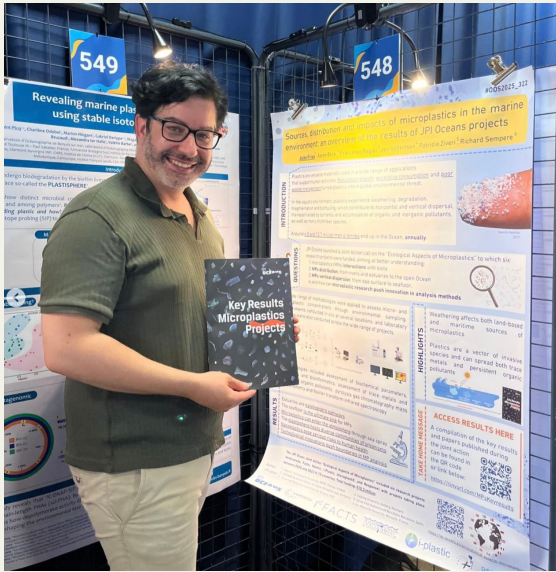

As an organisation, JPI Oceans sits at an intersection, and so does its communication work. We are neither a research institution producing science nor a policy body making decisions. Instead, we bridge the two, and this in-between is more intricate than it looks.
